Marcus Rasberry Named Safety Professional of the Year

FARMINGTON HILLS, Mich., March 5, 2019 — Marcus Rasberry, senior risk management consultant at Amerisure, was recently recognized as Safety Professional of the Year (SPY) by the American Society of Safety Professionals (ASSP) Central Florida chapter. He was acknowledged for his dedication and outstanding contributions to the chapter. Rasberry is now eligible to be named SPY for the ASSP's southern region.

Rasberry, who is also a member of the Women in Safety Excellence and Blacks in Safety Excellence interest groups, was judged on a rigorous set of criteria that examined his activities during the past three to five years, including:

- Technical expertise in the field of safety
- Thorough knowledge of the operational aspects of his safety employment
- Personal achievements related to safety and health
- Professional contributions to advance the safety profession, such as fostering professional development, public/community service, educational institutions, involvement in codes and legislation, etc.

Chapter President Susan Tobin presented Marcus Rasberry with the chapter's Safety Professional of the year award

In addition to being recognized by the ASSP, Rasberry's supervisors at Amerisure also acknowledged his achievement. "Marcus exemplifies Amerisure's commitment to providing superior service through exceptional employees with his passion for safety and the policyholders he serves," said Kevin Clary, vice president of risk management.

"I'm honored to have been selected for this award," said Rasberry. "I take pride in helping policyholders improve their safety culture and bottom line. As part of an industry leading risk management team, it's gratifying to have my work recognized by my peers."

Amerisure is known for its industry leading risk management services in the construction, manufacturing and healthcare industries. Its trusted consultants, like Rasberry, forge unique partnerships with the company's agency customers and the businesses they protect. Their deep industry knowledge helps support operational business goals while simultaneously reducing risk.
